WORLD MENTAL HEALTH DAY 2023

Every year we celebrate World Mental Health Day (WMHD) on 10 October. The theme for 2023, set by the World Foundation of Mental Health, is 'Mental Health is a Universal Human Right'. World Mental Health Day is about raising awareness about the importance of mental health to make a positive change in everyone's overall health.

Mental health, in its various complexities, has emerged as one of the most pressing global concerns of our times. The burden of mental health disorders has been steadily rising, affecting individuals, families, and communities alike. The conventional approaches to psychiatry, although effective for many, often fall short in addressing the holistic needs of the patients. This is where homeopathy shines, with its gentle, individualized, and holistic approach to healing.

By collaborating, we can harness the strengths of each field to provide comprehensive, patient-centric mental health care.
